

Reflecting on Sangha

BY REV. HARRY GYOKYO BRIDGE

Many of you know that I did not grow up Buddhist. I encountered Buddhism once in high school but it didn't grab me. During college is when I was hooked – maybe it was the message, maybe it was where I was at in my own life. Whatever the reason, I became fascinated, and over the next several years began reading and studying voraciously.

However, something was missing – a community of teachers and fellow practitioners. As much as I learned about Buddhism from books, it wasn't until I moved out to Berkeley to study at the Institute of Buddhist Studies that I really began to learn. Because Buddhism isn't just about the intellect, it isn't about memorizing a bunch of information – what it is really about is living in the world with others. Or, as I put it last year: "As much as Buddhism is a personal commitment and way of life, it is also a life lived in community. We learn as much, if not more, from others as we do from our own personal study and practice."

In Buddhism, we call this community "the Sangha." This is the third of the Three Treasures that we recite. These are our "fellow travelers" on the Buddha Path. We may think of some of them as friends, we may think of others as teachers, but in the eyes of the Buddha we are all equal. We can all learn from each other – the time we spend together is an opportunity to put the teachings into practice.

Each year, we say goodbye to some very special members of our Sangha – our graduating seniors who are embarking on a new phase in their lives. Even though they may move away, they are still a part of our Sangha and it is my hope that the Buddha Dharma continues to help guide their lives and that they still consider themselves fellow travelers on the Buddhist path. To me, Buddhism is perfect for that stage of life, so it is a shame that historically this has been a time when our children go away from the temple and often move away from Buddhism. However, in recent years various BCA programs, as well as the tremendous impact of social networking sites like Facebook, have allowed recent graduates and young adults to stay in contact with our temples.

Let's stay connected as a Sangha of fellow travelers on the Buddha Path no matter where we are!

In gassho,
Rev. Harry Gyokyo Bridge ☸

Nikkoland Bazaar T-Shirts

This year we will have T-shirts available to wear during bazaar time! Show your support and get one for only $10. each, multiple sizes (Men's S, M, L, XL) on a first-come basis. Tees were designed by our talented and creative church member, Jay Kaneshige. Sign up for yours at the church office. They will arrive at the end of May.

A New Look for the BCO Library

Maya Lawrence, Gayle Noguchi and John Minamoto are working on a new look for our BCO Library. We are hoping to stock “new” books related to Jodo Shinshu Buddhism, general Buddhism and our cultural history. We’ll be highlighting critically acclaimed volumes and will be starting a Book Review column in the Busshin. So, in order to make space, we will be retiring many volumes on our shelves. Retired books will be set out and available to members who would like to take them home. Look for these changes in the coming months. ❀

Silent Auction

By CAROL THUNEN

As we prepare for our Bazaar, please consider donating to the Silent Auction. It is only through your generous donations that the auction can be a success. From gift cards to works of art to tickets for games, concerts or even a trip, the possibilities are endless. Do you have a service that might be auctioned? Just let your imagination guide you. The more variety that we have, the better. You can leave your donations at the church office or contact Carol Thunen at (510) 594-1800 or at c.thunen@comcast.net if you have any questions

For those who can't come on Sunday, we plan to have a mini Silent Auction that will end on Saturday at 6:30. As for the regular Silent Auction, it will close at 5:30 on Sunday. Closing at 5:30 gives us time to input data into the computer so that we can announce the winning bidders for all the auction lots before the close of Bazaar. In this way winning bidders can go home with their winnings before they leave on Sunday, saving them a trip to church to retrieve their items.

What if you can't wait for the end of the auction and you REALLY want that special auction item? Look for the "Buy it now!" price. Meet that price and you can take it home with you right then and there. It's the only sure way to ensure that you get what you want.

We hope that this year's Silent Auction will be as fun and exciting as last year's was. Please help us make it a big success by making a donation. It's easy. And don't forget to stop by the Silent Auction and bid. Your participation would be very much appreciated. Thank you! ❀

Momiji Kai News

By NANCY YAMAMOTO

Thursday, April 19, 2012, the Momiji kai held another one of our combined luncheon and entertainment events. After an 11:30 a.m. lunch prepared by the members, we went into the entertainment portion at 12:30 p.m. under the chair of Walter Jan, who with his wife Katsuyo are active members of the Line Dance group.

The program was about Las Vegas. Walter started with a concise history of the Las Vegas Strip, starting with the first built themed hotel, The Mirage, and the many hotels that followed. He talked about dining on the L.V. strip and dining on downtown Fremont Street. Then he offered some tips on gambling, and sticking to casino games having the least casino advantage. He talked about shows and concluded with a Barry Manilow L.V. show on DVD. Thank you Walter, for a very interesting presentation.

Our sincere thanks go to Rev. Bridge who was the technical man putting all that equipment together so that we could enjoy the program and movie in comfort. That was a lot of detailed work, Sensei, and we do appreciate all the hours of hard work you put in for us.

We wish to thank Gloria Fujimoto for the beautiful fruit and berries you so thoughtfully sent to the organization for the event and to all the members who helped in the food area.

Our next meeting will be on Thurs., May 3, 2012. This will be a regular meeting with the usual a.m. service, the yoga exercises, and some knitting before lunch. Other events are being planned for future dates but have not been finalized.

Looking forward to seeing all of you in May. ❀

DHARMA SCHOOL NEWS...

By JANET UMEZU

On April 22, the Dharma School observed the Pets' Memorial Service. A remembrance dedicated to the special pets in our lives. Thank you to Pamela Kato Lang for making the Pet Memorial cards, which were displayed in front of the altar; thank you to Michael Endo for setting up the beautiful table; and thank you to Mollie Yoneyama for keeping track of everything.

How time flies when you are having fun. That is what happened when the Dharma School teachers attended the Annual Federation of Dharma School Teachers' League Conference at Thunder Valley Resort in Lincoln, CA on April 28 & 29. This year's theme was Evolution to Revolution. Although the clanging of machines beckoned to come and play, the Dharma School teachers stayed focused and discussed the evolution of the Jodo Shinshu teaching as it was transmitted from India, to China, to Korea, to Japan and then to the United States. Teachers were asked to consider how Dharma School has evolved since the earlier years and what challenges the teachers face now. There was no one conclusion drawn but many ideas were presented to meet the challenges of preparing teachers and teaching the students. It was an interesting weekend for those who attended. Also during the conference, two of our teachers, Joni Hiramoto and Robert Noguchi, received the Bishop's Certificate of Recognition for Ten Years of Service. Congratulations to Joni and Robert! The Federation Board also elected three new officers for two year terms: Maya Lawrence was elected Recording Secretary; Carl Yanari (Palo Alto Buddhist Temple) was elected President; and JoAnn McLennan (Palo Alto Buddhist Temple) was elected Historian.

A reminder to students - please try and make it every Sunday as some of you are very close in attaining Perfect Attendance, which is attending class 30+ days. If you are uncertain where you stand, please ask your teacher. The last day of Dharma School is June 3, which is also the Graduation Service.

Birthday Sunday will be celebrated on June 3. The celebration will include the students who were born in June and July. The August birthdays will be celebrated in September.

Dharma School wishes a happy birthday to the following students born in June:

Charlotte Abrahamson, Martha Castro, Grant Ikeda, Garrett Kamita, Christopher MacMaster, and Alex Wilson. Birthday wishes are also extended to those born in July. They are Jenna Kwong, Keiko Masamori, Nicole Masuoka and Ryan Yoshida.

As the school year begins to wind down, the Dharma School would like to extend its deepest gratitude to the four teachers who will be retiring or stepping down from teaching. The Oakland Dharma School has been very fortunate to have such dedicated people. Margaret Aoki and Daisy Tsujimoto have both been teaching for 38 years. Joni Hiramoto has taught for 10 years, and Janet Umezu has taught for 21 years. These teachers have devoted many years to teaching our children, faithfully coming to church with perfect attendance (!) and always with a smile. We are truly grateful. We wish each of them a happy and relaxing future in whatever endeavors they pursue.

The Nikkoland Food bazaar will be June 16 and June 17. Please see Maya Lawrence if you have not signed up for a game shift. The church can always use extra hands.
